

Rashmi Chanduraj

Managing Partner

Rashmi Chanduraj serves as the founding partner of Aarcstone Capital, a company specializing in multifamily real estate investments. Her role encompasses a strategic approach to targeting, acquiring, and managing assets, utilizing state-of-the-art processes and cutting-edge technologies.

With a lifelong exposure to multifamily real estate, Rashmi's early experiences were with her father that instilled a deep appreciation for real estate ownership. While she initially focused on single-family homes, she later transitioned to multifamily investments. She holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree and a Master of Administrative Science from Fairleigh Dickinson's University.

After accumulating decades of expertise in Human Capital Management and Program Management, her career trajectory shifted towards multifamily real estate. Today, she is passionately dedicated to enhancing the quality of life within communities and unwavering in her commitment to delivering exceptional results through Aarcstone Capital.
